A YEAR OF GROWTH & RESILIENCE

Jesus Collective Annual Report

Message from

Adam Dyer - Executive Director

The past year has been a journey of transformation for Jesus Collective—a year of challenge, growth, and stepping into the unknown with faith and purpose. As we've navigated the shifting landscape of the post-COVID world, we've found ourselves called to reimagine, adapt, and renew our vision for what it means to amplify a Jesus-centered movement.

The model we carried into this season didn't fully fit the challenges of today's world, but we embraced the opportunity to chart a new course. Through careful navigation and Holy Spirit-led discernment, we have built a stronger team, evolved our approach, and re-centered ourselves on the mission God has placed before us: to unite, equip, and amplify leaders and churches in the way of Jesus.

Now, we stand on the edge of deeper waters, looking ahead with anticipation and hope. This moment feels like one of reimagination and rediscovery—a time when the world is searching for stability, meaning, and renewal amidst the shaking and shifting of seemingly everything. And in this moment, we feel the Spirit at work, reforming and reshaping the church for the world we serve.

At the heart of this reimagination is Jesus. He remains our constant and our center, the lens through which we see all things anew. Jesus-centered leadership transforms not just individuals, but entire communities, offering a perspective of renewed hope and purpose.

As we reflect on the impact of this past year—through events like Unite, innovative resources, and the relationships forged within our network—we are deeply grateful for your partnership and participation. Your support has been the foundation of this work, and we invite you to continue walking alongside us as we step into the possibilities ahead.

Together, we can reimagine a more hopeful Christianity, build a more united church, and amplify the beauty and wonder of Jesus to a world hungry for renewal.

Thank you for being part of this journey.

We believe we stand in a new moment, a new reformation perhaps, which focuses on Jesus at centre as the revelation of who God is, as the inspiration for how we live and lead, and as the giver of the Spirit who guides and empowers us.

We exist to amplify this movement and provide resource and relationship for those who choose to participate in a more hopeful Jesus-Centred Christianity.

These things are important to us

HUMBLE CURIOSITY We recognize that each of us has things to contribute and things to learn. We offer our own gifts generously and practice hospitality toward the gifts of others. We lead with curiosity, assuming the other has something to teach us.

EMBRACING DISRUPTION

We welcome disruption and embrace discomfort as a space of transformation. We commit to putting ourselves in places we will be stretched and challenged. We bring our whole selves to engagement with each other and present our thoughts honestly.

GENEROUS POWER

We are generous with power, sharing it freely and using it where we have it to amplify others. We take seriously Jesus' model of self-emptying as the way of God. We practice mutual submission in all our engagements with each other.

COURAGEOUS UNITY We embrace the full diversity of Christ's body and seek to learn from each other in our differences. We root ourselves in our shared identity as followers of Jesus. Even in our disagreements, we recognize and acknowledge each other as members of one body.

RADICAL TRANSFORMATION

We seek to integrate theory and practice, to go beyond new ways of thinking to new ways of being. We pursue the integrity of alignment between our claims and character. We open ourselves to the Spirit's work, transforming us more and more into Jesus' likeness.

Giving Thanks

To our donors, supporters, and partners—thank you. Your generosity and dedication have empowered us to unite leaders, equip churches, and amplify the Jesus-centered movement in profound ways this year.

Because of you, we've been able to create spaces of connection and belonging, provide tools and resources that empower leaders, and amplify the stories and impact of a global movement re-centering on Jesus. Your support fuels this mission, making transformation possible for leaders, communities, and churches.

Your belief in the vision of a more hopeful, Jesus-centered church inspires us every day. Together, we are building something extraordinary—a movement that unites, equips, and amplifies hope in a world that desperately needs it.

Thank you for walking alongside us in this journey.

Partner Impact Stories

As a pastor in an increasingly polarized world, I have often felt frustrated and tribeless. Between racial tension, government-related divisions, deep theological questions, and topics related to gender and sexuality, it has felt like the world has drawn more battlelines and asking people to "reach across the aisle" or even treat one another with dignity or compassion has been more challenging than ever.

Our church (Daylight Church, Louisville, KY, USA) and our sister church partnered with Jesus Collective late in 2022 and it has proven to be a wonderful decision. Between the UNITE Conference, the hubs and workshops, and the excellent (and easy-to-build) relationships, it feels like we've found a community of kindred spirits that sincerely want to see Jesus as the center of a quite large table. The children and youth resources they provide are already proving valuable and nearly every event I've attended, either in person or online, has left me wanting more.

I'm looking forward to the years ahead and I feel more "at home" than I have in a long time.

Mosaic's partnership with Jesus Collective has truly been a transformative force in our lives over the past six months. Their support and encouragement have been invaluable, helping us to develop a deep focus on what it truly means to live a centered set life, with Jesus at the very core. The community within Jesus Collective has provided us with the tools, resources, and inspiration to strengthen our faith and live out our beliefs in a meaningful way. Through their guidance, we have experienced an amazing shift in our perspectives, priorities, and overall well-being. The connections we've made within the Jesus Collective have been instrumental in our personal and spiritual growth. The collective wisdom, diverse experiences, and unwavering support from this community have enriched our lives in immeasurable ways. The last six months have been a period of tremendous growth, learning, and joy, and we are deeply grateful for the role that Jesus Collective has played in this transformative journey. We are excited to continue on this path, further exploring what it means to live a life centered on Jesus, and we look forward to the ongoing support and inspiration that Jesus Collective provides.

Looking Ahead

As we turn the page to a new season, we are filled with excitement and anticipation for the opportunities that lie ahead for Jesus Collective. This past year has been one of growth and transformation, and now, with a refreshed vision and model, we are stepping boldly into 2024–2025 with renewed purpose.

One of the most exciting developments has been the launch of our Patreon platform. This new initiative provides an accessible way for more people to engage with Jesus Collective—bridging the gap between our digital resources and deeper partnerships. Over the coming months, we'll be expanding on this platform, offering new content and opportunities for connection that will amplify our impact and reach.

Looking ahead, in-person gatherings remain at the heart of what we do. In summer 2025, we're thrilled to host a significant event in Delaware, creating another space for leaders to come together, build relationships, and experience renewal. These gatherings continue to be powerful moments where the Spirit moves in transformative ways.

We're also leaning further into resource creation and facilitation. From Hub gatherings to Author Summits to live podcasts, we are committed to equipping leaders and churches with tools that address today's most pressing challenges. A key area of focus will be exploring how we can support churches in navigating polarizing conversations—an issue that we believe the Spirit is prompting us to engage with more deeply.

Finally, as we listen to God and watch the Spirit's movements in this generation, we are inspired by the hope and renewal we see rising up across the global church. Our mission to Unite, Equip, and Amplify Jesus-centered leaders and communities is more relevant than ever, and we are grateful for the privilege of walking this journey with you.

Thank you for being an integral part of Jesus Collective. Your partnership fuels this movement, and we can't wait to see what God will do next.
